That our country was the first to withdraw from the "League of Friendship" and adopt a policy of national isolation and selfishness is a humiliation that only time, repentance and good works can erase from the national memory. This unparelled apostasy could bring only evils in its train. It was inevitable that, having committed a breach of good faith with our associates in the great war; and with the wretched and distressed of the world we, ourselves, would have to pass through a period of sorrow and atonement. Any polimy of selfishness has a punishment of its own. Neither man nor nations can escape their destiny. When we permitted fear to creep into our councils, when we allowed ourselves to be terrorized into the belief that the policy which was embraced gladly by other nations was dangerous to us, we lost not only world leadership we stood self confessed as a nation so torn by dissension, so be-deviled

CADDO BANKER PASSES AWAY

H. S. Witt, President of the Caddo National Bank of Caddo, died Tuesday morning after a brief illness, his death being due to typhoid fever. The funeral was held at Caddo on Wednesday afternoon and burial made in the Caddo cemetery. The funeral was attended by quite a number of Durant folks.

Mr. Witt had lived in Caddo only a few years, but in those years he had made a place for himself in the esteem of the folks of Caddo and of Durant as well, where he was known to quite a number of folks. His death came as a surprise to many friends here who had not yet learned of his illness.
